

Project: Economic Impact Analysis of Atterbury-Muscatatuck

Client: Indiana National Guard

Term: Spring 2013

Faculty Mentor: Barry Rubin

Summary:

The Capstone team was tasked with providing the Indiana National Guard with economic effects of the Camp Atterbury-Muscatatuck military training and mobilization site located in Jennings County in Southeastern Indiana. The economic impact analysis was divided into five topics: Employment Impact, Facility Sending Impact, Impact of Indirect Exports on Local Governments and Businesses, Volunteer and Community Service Impact, Sustainable Practices and Environmental Stewardship. The Capstone team concluded that economic impacts of 2012, the report year analyzed, included over 4,000 jobs and $399 million dollars throughout the central and southern regions of the state.
